Hi Joe,

It was great talking to you as well. Here is a bunch of information on Centreville/East St. Louis area.

Attached is a EST CSO flow diagram that I found to be very useful and provided by the state (I think); a watershed plan proposal by Heartland; a Centreville booklet provided by some of the key partners and a briefing memo that my office has put together for management. You may want to start with the briefing paper.

Also, here is a February newspaper article about the low-income African-American community of Centreville which has persistent failures of its sewage infrastructure—leading to backups in residents’ homes and yards.

Following this email, I’ll send you one additional email that has recent photos taken after a rain storm. I’m cc’ing my Director who has been very engaged with many of the key partners and talking with upper management.
